The most dangerous thing humans do to endangered animals is destroy their habitats. This is usually because we do not pay	2.5

attention. When there is an area of land we want to use, we don't think of what is already living there.

Most of us don't live near a rainforest. However, that does not mean we are not destroying animal habitat. As a town becomes bigger, more houses and businesses are built. The wildlife of that place loses their habitat and must find a new one. Wetlands and grasslands are habitats that are especially in danger. Thankfully, people are paying more attention to the problem. This is the first step toward protecting habitats.

34. The writer thinks that many animals are endangered because _____.

- a. there is not enough food for them
- b. they are losing their natural homes
- c. we are not living near their habitats
- d. hunters don't pay enough attention

35. The underlined word "this" in paragraph 2 refers to _____.

- a. type of plants or animals
- b. pay attention to animals
- c. build houses or businesses
- d. destroy animals' habitats

36. What is the word which means "a special place where a plant or animal lives"?

37. If we don't pay attention to endangered animals, they will increase. True False

38. The first step to help endangered animals is not to destroy their habitats. True False
